

It is vital to help all Americans to have access to the Internet for their children education, civil awareness,
electronic access to government, and emergency notifications.

This is especially true to our most vulnerable families, that is, poor or geographically isolated.